PEUR. 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

"We can recommend this book."—Standard.

"To write a purely domestic tale which is so far from dull is a considerable achievement. . . . . Each of the characters has a strongly-marked nature of his or her own. . . . . Becky Wilson is a fine portrait which must clearly be from life. But the book should be read."—Athenaeum.

The HOUSE of CLARISFORD: A Prophecy.

By FREDERICK WOODMAN. 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

"A really interesting novel, which we can recommend."—Sunday Times.

"An example of a fine old style which is growing rarer and rarer. . . . . There is considerable interest and some skill in construction."—Academy.

A VERY OLD QUESTION: a Novel. By T.

EDGAR PEMBERTON, Author of "Under Pressure," &c. 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

The SIEGE of VIENNA: a Novel. By CAROLINE

PICHLER. (From the German.) 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

"A thrilling tale in which a love-story of unusual strength and interest is combined with an account of the investment of Vienna by the Turks in 1683. . . . . The translation does ample justice to the merits of the story, and the book is one which will repay the reading better than many of the three-volume novels recently published."—Sunday Times.

"The story is interesting from first to last, and has about it a brilliancy of colouring which, while perfectly suitable to the events it treats of, sets it distinctly apart from most of the romances which we are accustomed to meet with in the present day."—Morning Post.

American Sketches. By E. C. FERNAU. Crown 8vo, 7s. 6d.

"The sketches are slight, and not ill written. The descriptions of country life are true enough, and there is an air of reality about the stories which is impressive and sometimes even dramatic."—Athenaeum.

"It is this tyranny which the author has undertaken to illustrate in her very pleasant and interesting book. . . . . the lively portraiture of Argentine life and manners amply relieves the more gloomy sketches."—Academy.

"All are replete with graphic sketches of the country, its customs and society in 'camp' and city, which exhibit enviable powers of observation and description. . . . . These charming South American sketches cannot fail to interest the general reader; while to those who are familiar with her scenes, and have seen her remarkable characters in the flesh, there is an associating link of irresistible attraction."—Coming Events.

"Aptly portraying the reign of terror which the author has so touchingly depicted by laying before us pictures of the social life of the time. . . . . Altogether the sketches are life-like; and, the book being written in a fluent and eminently readable style, the reader's interest is aroused at the beginning, and maintained unflagging to the end."—Sunderland Herald.

"The author may be recommended as an entertaining and instructive guide to persons who, knowing nothing, would fain know a little about the real terror of the reign of Rosas."—Globe.

"'Dolores' is the most tragic and impressive, yet at the same time unpretending, story we have read for a long time."—Hornet.

FINANCIAL OPINION:

A Thursday Illustrated Financial,
Political, Literary, and Family Paper.

FINANCIAL OPINION, in addition to first-class original matter on all subjects of immediate interest, is devoted to the collection, analysis, and presentation of the most exhaustive information on Financial Matters, and gives the cream of the rival opinions contained in the leading Journals and City Articles, both British, Colonial, and Foreign. Men of business are rarely able to analyse carefully all the rival opinions on any particular security day by day, and week by week, smothered as they are in the sea of general materials throughout all the papers. FINANCIAL OPINION, devoted among other purposes to this, undertakes to provide the man of business and the investor with such a digest and comparison, stripped of all fortuitous and irrelevant matter, and presented in a form intelligible to every man of common sense. The leading securities of the day are from time to time illustrated by charts of the fluctuations in price, in some cases for a series of years, and regularly for a series of two to three weeks.
Besides the Diagrams of Price Fluctuations, various Maps of the Seat of War are frequently given.

LESSING: His Life and Writings. By JAMES SIME, M.A.

"It is to Lessing that an Englishman would turn with readiest affection: We cannot but wonder that more of this man is not known among us."—THOMAS CARLYLE.

"In all literary history," said Heine, as Mr. Sime reminds us in his preface, 'Lessing is the writer whom I most love'; and what good grounds there were for Heine's love Mr. Sime's valuable work will explain to people who perchance only know Lessing as the author of the 'Lacoon,' though indeed that in itself supplies matter enough for admiration and respect."—Saturday Review.

"The work before us may, therefore, be classed as a contribution to biographical literature of permanent value."—Globe.

"But it is not only as the intrepid controversialist, the staunch champion of freedom of the mind, that Mr. Sime's work presents Lessing to us. It would have been sadly incomplete had he not also portrayed for us the man of kindly heart and the dramatist."—Daily Telegraph.

"In all this we have good evidence of original thought and independent judgment based on the best of all foundations—a careful study of the master's writings."—Graphic.

"At length the public may be congratulated on possessing a full and perfect account of one of the most remarkable and noteworthy Germans that ever existed."—Notes and Queries.

"An Account of Lessing's life and work on the scale which he deserves is now for the first time offered to English readers. Mr. Sime has performed his task with industry, knowledge, and sympathy; qualifications which must concur to make a successful biographer."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"Mr. Sime's volumes are eminently interesting, and leave on the reader's mind a clear and agreeable impression of Lessing and his work."—Bookseller.

"Surely this work, written with such enthusiasm and painstaking accuracy, will not only be appreciated by the author's countrymen, but is sure also to obtain many warm friends in the land of Lessing."—Weser Zeitung.

"This is an admirable book. It lacks no quality that a biography ought to have. Its method is excellent; its theme is profoundly interesting; its tone is the happiest mixture of sympathy and discrimination; its style is clear, masculine, free from effort or affectation, yet eloquent by its very sincerity. It is not a page too long; and, though the reader closes it with regret, the critic must own that it is not a page too short."—Standard.

Now ready, post 8vo, pp. 34 4, cloth, price 16s. 6d.

ENGLISH RULE and NATIVE OPINION

in INDIA. A Series of Gleanings from the Notes of a Journalist in the Years 1870-72, and again in 1871. By JAMES ROUT-LEDGE.

"Mr. Routledge observes more than he speculates, and gets up facts as well as reasons on them, and few will read his work without owning that they have been informed or reminded in a pleasant gossiping manner of facts connected with India which they are glad to have had brought before them."—Saturday Review.

"Throughout it he shows himself to be a well-informed and sagacious observer, wide-reaching in his intellectual and moral sympathies, and deeply in earnest. In regard to its weightier contents, this is by far the best book we have had since Dr. Hunter's 'Life of Lord Mayo.'" —Athenaeum.

"He is master of a strong, rapid, glowing style, which imparts a certain freshness to his tritest remarks, and his power of portraying character and reproducing historic incidents and personal experiences cannot be disputed."—Allen's Indian Mail.

THREE NEW NOVELS.

By WILLIAM BLACK.

GREEN PASTURES and PICCADILLY.
3 vols. 31s. 6d.

By Mrs. OLIPHANT.

YOUNG MUSGRAVE.

3 vols. 31s. 6d.

"The latest of Mrs. Oliphant's works is happily in her best manner; the plot is full of romantic and sensational incidents."—Manchester Examiner.

MIRAGE. By George Fleming.

Author of "A Nile Novel." 3 vols. 31s. 6d.

"The descriptions of the scenery, people, and life in Palestine are full of local colouring, and intensify the interest which everyone must feel in a land so full of holy and historical associations. The love-story is told with refinement and acuteness, and there is no lack of individuality in the dramatis personae. . . . . Mr. Fleming is to be congratulated on having made progress in novel-writing, for 'Mirage' is certainly an improvement on 'A Nile Novel,' and, above all, it is a work sui generis."—Athenæum.

"We do not hesitate to say that it is long since we met with a novel better worth reading than 'Mirage.' . . . . The story, indeed, would have been attractive had its scene been laid anywhere else, though the unity and compact nature of the novel is perfectly maintained, and the rare artistic skill with which the descriptions are blended with the action of the story cannot be too much commended. . . . . We say again that 'Mirage' is one of the cleverest and most charming novels of the year."—Manchester Examiner.

The CUCKOO CLOCK.

By ENNIS GRAHAM, Author of "Carrots," &c. With Eight Illustrations by Walter Crane. Extra fcap 8vo, gilt, 4s. 6d. [Sixth Thousand.]

The Times says:—"Mr. Walter Crane's pencil has been fitly employed on so pure and graceful a story."

The Pall Mall Gazette says:—"Ennis Graham deserves all the praise that has been, is, and will be bestowed on 'The Cuckoo Clock.' Children's stories are plentiful, but one like this is not to be met with every day."

The Spectator calls it "one of the most delicate and charming stories which it has been our lot to read for many a day."

The VOYAGE of the "CHALLENGER."

The ATLANTIC.—An Account of the General Results of the Voyage during the Year 1873 and the early part of the Year 1876. By Sir C. WYVILLE THOMSON, F.R.S., &c. With a Portrait of the Author, engraved by C. H. JEENS, numerous Illustrations, Coloured Maps, Charts, &c. 2 vols. medium 8vo, 2l. 5s.

The Times says:—"It is right that the public should have some authoritative account of the general results of the expedition, and that as many of the ascertained data as may be accepted with confidence should speedily find their place in the general body of scientific knowledge. No one can be more competent than the accomplished scientific chief of the expedition to satisfy the public in this respect. . . . . The paper, printing, and especially the numerous illustrations, are of the highest quality. . . . . We have rarely, if ever, seen more beautiful specimens of wood-engraving than abound in this work. . . . . Sir Wyville Thomson's style is particularly attractive; he is easy and graceful, but vigorous and exceedingly happy in his choice of language, and throughout the work there are touches which show that science has not banished sentiment from his bosom."

A HISTORY of the ENGLISH PEOPLE.

By JOHN RICHARD GREEN.

Vol. I.—Early England—Foreign Kings—The Charter—The Parliament. With Eight Coloured Maps, 8vo, 16s.

"Mr. Green has done a work which probably no one but himself could have done. He has read and assimilated the results of all the labours of students during the last half century in the field of English history, and has given them a fresh meaning by his own independent study. He has fused together by the force of sympathetic imagination all that he has so collected, and has given us a vivid and forcible sketch of the march of English history. His book, both in its aims and its accomplishments, rises far beyond any of a similar kind, and it will give the colouring to the popular view of English history for some time to come."—Examiner.

For the most part the autobiography of the French Lady in Waiting, between whom and Miss Burney a wonderfully close parallel could be drawn, are rendered in easy and idiomatic English. The book, which is nobly printed, will suit the taste, and may dissipate some of the historical ignorance of the day."—World.
